DO-7785 — Learning Object Engagement Timer

DO-8631 / DO-8632 / DO-8633 / DO-8634 / DO-8635 / DO-8636 / DO-8685

A new feature has been developed that provides institution administrators with the ability to set a predefined time for students to engage with lesson learning objects. The timer will appear in both Course Player and MyDay screens and keep the "Next" and "Done" buttons inactive until the required time threshold has elapsed.

Institution Admin View

The screenshot shows the 'Institution Admin' interface. At the top, there's a header with 'HARRIS Digital Learning' and 'Institution Admin'. Below this, the 'Institution Details' section shows 'Name: 0 QA School ESW' and 'Domain: @qa.edu'. The 'School Setup' tab is selected, and the 'Settings' sub-tab is active. In the 'Properties' section, a table lists various settings. The 'Course Learning Objective Timer' is highlighted with an orange box, and its value is set to '60' seconds. An orange arrow points to the input field for the timer value.

Name	Value	Edit
Attendance Logging	No
Attendance Portlet on Parent Home	No
Course Learning Objective Timer	60 Seconds
Custom Course Code Prefix Enable/Disable	Yes
Default Advisor

Student View (Course Player)

DO-8487 — Diagnostic Test: Gradebook Exemptions

ZD-6892

A fix has been deployed to correct an error that prevented the system from accurately recording and displaying the number of exemptions earned by the student in the gradebook following the completion of a diagnostic test.

DO-8529 — Advisor Summary Window: Assessment - Alerts

ZD-6898 / ZD-6925

A fix has been deployed to correct an error that prevented the system from displaying diagnostic and progress test information when accessed through the Advisor home screen.

DO-8628 — Disable Copy/Paste: Assessments

DO-8629 / ZD-8630

An update has been made to the text editor in assessments that will remove the ability for students to copy and paste content within essay/short answer questions. This would involve disabling current methods such as right-click and paste, drag/drop, and other common keyboard shortcuts thereby requiring students to either manually enter a text-based response or upload an external document using the attachment feature (paperclip option) included in the assessment.

Student View (Course Player)

The screenshot displays the 'Student View (Course Player)' interface. At the top, a purple header bar contains a back arrow icon, the text 'Mathematics 6th Grade Part 1 - Lesson 10 Quiz - EDMS.MA006.A', and a 'Text-to-speech' button with a play icon. Below the header is a navigation bar with tabs for 'Question', '1', '2', '3', '4', and '5'. The '4' tab is selected, and it shows '4 of 5' questions. To the right of the tabs are 'Save' and 'Submit' buttons. The main content area features a red instruction: 'Use the paperclip button below to attach files.' Below this is a note: '* Student can enter max 2000 characters'. A rich text editor is present with a toolbar containing various formatting options (bold, italic, underline, link, unlink, list, indent, outdent, text color, background color, text style, paragraph, bulleted list, numbered list, table, etc.). The text area below the toolbar is empty and labeled 'Type here'. An orange arrow points to the left side of the text area. At the bottom right of the text area, there are two circular buttons: a microphone icon and a paperclip icon. An orange arrow points to the paperclip button.
