

Gradebook Icons Guide for Students

Your grade breakdown is where you can view your current grade for a course. It contains a list of all the assignments for a course and the scores you have received on them.

Sometimes, you may see a small icon on an assignment in your grade breakdown.

WHAT THE ICONS MEAN

- An E icon means that the lesson and its assignment has been exempted, and you do not need to complete it.
- An O icon means that your score on that assignment has been overridden, or changed by your teacher. You can always message your teacher for more information.
- An exclamation point icon means that you have successfully submitted an assignment, but that it hasn't been graded by your teacher yet.
- An hourglass icon means that you have started that assignment, but you have not submitted it for grading yet.
- A lock icon means that an assignment has been locked and it is not available for you to take. If an assignment is locked, you should contact your teacher to ask what your next steps should be.

If you see an icon you don't recognize or have questions about your grades, reach out to your teacher.
